1. the Paris Commune Shipyard at Gdynia handed over three NYSA-type ships built at the yard to the Soviet Maritime Mission. Four such ships have already been launched, and are due to be handed over to the Soviets before the end of the year. Three other NYSA-type ships are on the slips and practically ready for launching. When a ship is handed over to the Soviet Maritime Mission, Soviet crews board her, and a red stripe with hammer and sickle is painted on the funnel. During trials the ship is manned by Polish crews.
2. Shipyard personnel are obliged to participate in antiaircraft defense exercises which take place regularly once a week on the shipyard grounds. The presence of the employees at these exercises is strictly enforced. The exercises, which were introduced at the beginning of autumn , are to 25X1 be preparations for war. 25X1
3. Persons entering the shipyard grounds must have a pass in which the area and time the holder is allowed to stay there are accurately described. A large "C" on the pass indicates that the holder is permitted to move about throughout the entire shipyard.
